

Yarns

When spinning, they need to be tied. Don't forget to tie off the last strand using a triple twist.

- (1,1) May be prefixed with "Blood", "Grey", or "Huckleberry". [5]
- (10,2) The eldest Pevensie sibling. [5]
- (16,8) Most memorable Charlie Chaplin character, the Little _____. [5]
- (5,4) Scar or Mufasa, for example. [4]
- (11,2) The climbing vine or stem of certain varieties of legume. [9]
- (5,1) A mature leveret. [4]
- (6,5) A square cut of a diamond, considered the second most popular. [8]
- (10,5) A fairy chess piece represented by an inverted queen. [11]
- (11,4) A person who works as a cobbler. [9]
- (15,2) Any one of Josie's bandmates in cartoon and film. [8]
- (5,2) FBI Special Agent Mulder of the X-Files. [3]
- (13,8) A device used for raising or lifting heavy objects, such as a car when changing the tire. [4]
- (12,8) The totem of the goddess Athena or a mascot of the United States Forest Service. [3]
- (17,2) Multi-chart-topping Kenny Rogers love song written by Lionel Richie. [4]
- (1,7) A computer's point-and-click input device. [5]
- (6,6) CNN anchor Blitzer or Loki's son Fenrir. [4]
- (19,6) The characteristic of being pleasing in appearance or fashion. [6]
- (2,1) Excalibur or Durendal, for example. [5]
- (10,8) Type of amphibian that sings, "It's not easy being green." [4]
- (16,7) Dr. Hank McCoy of the X-men. [5]
- (1,11) To put to death by pelting with rocks. [5]
- (15,4) A fictional race that includes Galadriel and Legolas. [5]
- (7,5) A mostly wingless, social insect of the family Formicidae. [3]
- (5,5) The longest-living land animal. [8]