

Moving Day

Thanks so much for helping me move in to my new place. The moving company has just dropped off the boxes. Unfortunately, things seem to have gotten a bit jumbled up in transport, so, I'm sure glad you're here to help figure it out.

Each box has items from one of the rooms in the house. If you can just put them where they go, that would be great.

Oh yeah, in my haste to finish up packing, I had to toss one item into each box that doesn't belong with the others. When you find it, you can just put it into the garage. Thanks!
